Golf balls are like eggs. They're white. They're sold by the dozen. And you need to buy fresh ones each week.

It's amazing how a golfer who never helps out around the house will replace his divots, repair his ball marks, and rake his sand traps.

There are two things you can learn by stopping your back-swing at the top and checking the position of your hands: How many hands you have, and which one is wearing the glove.

Every time a golfer makes a birdie, he must subsequently make two triple bogeys to restore the fundamental equilibrium of the universe.

If your opponent has trouble remembering whether he shot a six or a seven, he probably shot an eight (or worse).

It’s easier to get up at 6:00 a.m. to play golf than to get up at 10:00 a.m. to mow the lawn.
